

Melissa Leonard, CFP®

Melissa comes to Foundation Financial Planning with over 10 years of experience in the financial services industry.

Raised in the DC metropolitan area, Melissa attended Virginia Tech (Go Hokie!). After graduating with a B.S. in Applied Economic Management with a focus in Financial Planning, from a CFP Board Certified program, she went on to work at various financial planning firms in DC, New York, and Seattle. Since 2012, Melissa has worked with individuals and families from all walks of life and her most recent focus has been helping young professionals and families to be more financially intentional so they can live the life they want. She is a Certified Financial Planning certificate (CFP®) and is a member of the National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (NAPFA).

Melissa lives in Seattle with her husband and golden retriever. She is an avid traveler, loves DIY home projects, discovering new music, and cooking with intentionality.
